Call for Board Members: Lyceum Arts

Help Shape the Future of Arts and Culture in Historic Burlington City, NJ

Are you passionate about the arts and interested in making a meaningful difference in your community? Lyceum Hall Arts is seeking dedicated, community-minded individuals to join and expand its founding Board of Directors.

Since September 2025, Lyceum Hall Arts has been serving and supporting arts programming at Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts in Burlington, New Jersey. As our organization continues to grow and strengthen its foundation, we are looking for new board members who share our commitment to making the arts accessible, engaging, and enriching for our community.

This is an exciting opportunity to help shape the future of a growing arts organization and contribute your skills, experience, and ideas to a shared vision for Burlington's cultural community.

About Lyceum Arts

Lyceum Arts supports and strengthens performances, exhibitions, arts events, and theatre arts education at Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts, located at 432 High Street in historic Burlington, NJ.

Through professional and community performances, arts programming, and educational opportunities for youth and families, we strive to enrich lives, encourage creative expression, and foster meaningful connections through the arts.

As we continue to develop our organization and work toward establishing our long-term nonprofit structure, we are building a strong, engaged Board of Directors to guide our mission and support our future growth.

Who We're Looking For

We welcome individuals who are enthusiastic about the arts and bring diverse perspectives, professional expertise, community connections, or a willingness to learn and contribute.

Experience or interest in any of the following areas would be especially valuable:

- Arts and Culture: Performing or visual arts, theatre, arts education, or event planning.
- Fundraising and Development: Grant writing, donor relations, sponsorships, or fundraising campaigns.
- Finance and Business: Accounting, budgeting, financial oversight, or organizational management.
- Community Engagement: Relationship-building, community outreach, inclusion, and partnerships.
- Marketing and Communications: Social media, public relations, branding, marketing, or audience development.
- Nonprofit Leadership and Governance: Board development, strategic planning, organizational policies, or nonprofit administration.

We recognize that strong boards benefit from a range of experiences and viewpoints. You do not need to be a professional artist to make a meaningful contribution.

What Does Serving on the Board Involve?

As a member of the Lyceum Arts Board of Directors, you will have the opportunity to share your time, treasure, talent, ties, testimony and:

- Help shape the organization's strategic direction, goals, and priorities.
- Support arts programming, theatre education, and community engagement at Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts.
- Serve as an ambassador for Lyceum Hall Arts and help build relationships throughout the Burlington community and surrounding region.
- Contribute to fundraising, outreach, partnerships, and organizational development.
- Participate in governance, financial oversight, and planning for long-term sustainability.
- Advocate for inclusive arts access and opportunities for creative expression.

As a member of the Lyceum Arts board, you will help establish the practices, relationships, and organizational foundation that will support Lyceum Hall Arts in the years ahead.

Time Commitment

Board members are expected to attend monthly board meetings, participate in at least one committee, and contribute to organizational activities through outreach, advocacy, planning, and fundraising support.

The initial board commitment is a two-year term. We understand that members bring different strengths and availability, and we value thoughtful, active participation.

How to Apply

Interested individuals are invited to submit a brief letter of interest describing their background, relevant skills, and reasons for wanting to serve on the Lyceum Hall Arts Board of Directors.

Please send your letter to:

Christine Petrini
Email: christine@lyceumarts.com

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis as we expand our board membership.

Why Join Lyceum Hall Arts?

By joining our Board of Directors, you can help strengthen the cultural life of Burlington and create opportunities for people of all ages to experience, learn about, and participate in the arts.

This is an opportunity to be part of something meaningful: supporting a historic arts venue, building community connections, and helping shape the future of an evolving arts organization.

Bring your ideas. Share your talents. Help the arts thrive in Burlington.

LYCEUM HALL CENTER FOR THE ARTS

Mission, Vision, Values

Lyceum Arts Mission:

Lyceum Arts is a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing arts access, education, and engagement by supporting the dynamic and diverse programming of Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts and the Lyceum Studio in downtown Burlington City, a historic waterfront community. Through fundraising, advocacy, and collaboration, Lyceum Arts is committed to fostering live theatre, music, visual arts, literary arts, and arts education that inspire individuals and families across our region to connect and discover a world of creativity in this vibrant cultural hub.

Lyceum Arts Vision:

We envision a thriving arts destination where creativity flourishes and community and culture intersect. Lyceum Arts works to build lasting support for inclusive, high-quality arts experiences—empowering artists, educators, students and audiences to connect through transformative programming that enriches lives and strengthens Burlington City's role as a cornerstone of cultural vitality.

Lyceum Hall Mission:

The Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts enriches and educates the community through distinctive and engaging creative arts programming.

Lyceum Hall Vision:

As a creative arts center, Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts will function primarily as a performing and visual arts space focusing on performances, exhibits, lectures, and classes, but will also offer a film festival, documentary viewings and film lectures. Our 125-seat venue will host the performances, and films; our 75-seat exhibit hall will be used for lectures and pre/post-performance activities, artists receptions, and affinity experiences. The exhibit hall will also feature year-round regional art providing our patrons a memorable experience with each-and-every visit. Our museum will carry artifacts from Burlington City and the works of local and regional sculptors.

Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts will be a cultural gathering place in the Delaware Valley Region. With our art studios and dance studio, the center will offer classes and workshops, as well as summer camps.

Lyceum Hall Center for the Arts' Artistic Directors, managers, and staff will work with area schools by providing a venue for creative arts students to showcase their works and arranging for hands-on sessions with area artists and creative arts educators. The center will also provide a venue for local filmmakers and arts-oriented groups.
